

A Tribute to Dorothy Horsley

by Noel & Margaret Thomas

Our mother, then Dorothy Horsley, taught at the Maleny School as did her brother Rex Horsley prior to 1921. Dorothy boarded at the boarding house and said if the main street was very wet and boggy you had to walk along the edge hanging on to the fence. Our brothers' Trevor and Brian passed away in 1984 and 2004 respectively. These pages were photocopied out of Dorothy's autograph book.

Here's to the "Gadabouts"

Fine fellows & manly,
Price, Read and Callanan
And Ernest E. Garby.

They dwell at the boarding house
That "joint" of great fame
Where the long-suffering "Gadabouts"
Get all the (corn bap & abak) blame.

If the truth only known
The "gals" aren't bad sports
But take none of the blame
But guess who does → the "Gadabouts"
Ernest E. Garby.
