Obituary

Vale Myrtle Dorcas Tytherleigh,
November 9, 1917 - June 5, 1997

A LARGE gathering of relatives and friends recently attended the funeral service for Myrtle Dorcas Tytherleigh at St George's Anglican Church, Maleny.

Myrtle was born in Lismore NSW the second youngest of nine children. Going to school on horse back from the family farm, she had completed her primary school education at the age of 10.

Myrtle had become the youngest person in the state to qualify for secondary education.

After this was completed, Myrtle was accepted as a trainee nurse at Kyogle Memorial Hospital. Later on Myrtle met and married Alfred Tytherleigh and moved to Maleny, where Alf worked in his father's general store.

They raised three children, and for many years Myrtle worked for David Wilson's Maleny Veterinary Services. Later on, she returned to her nursing career at the Maleny Hospital. She was active in the Girl Guide Movement in Maleny, also Church Guild, Endeavour Foundation, Senior Citizens Association and played indoor bowls.

Myrtle was an avid gardener, a reader, dabbled with sketching and painting and was a keen watcher of various sports on TV.

Her loving husband Alf predeceased her by about 17 years. Sadly missed by her children: John and Siri, Lyn and Ray, Janice and Ross, grand-children: Gregor, Lindsay, Kerrin, Jennifer and Wendy, Claire and Cassandra and her great-grand-children Rigan and Flynnne.
